MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS.

Fair Transactions in a Few Specialties-Prices Slightly Lower. NEW YORK, April 5 .- Money on call was easy, ranging from 3 to 4 per cent., the last loan being made at 312, closing offered at 3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@712 per cent. Sterling exchange quiet and steady at $4.84% for sixty-day bills and $4.87 for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 82,228 shares, including the following: Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 10,915; Louisville & Nashville, 1,550; Missouri Pacific, 1,515; Reading, 3,700; Richmond & West Point, 4,948; St. Paul, 5,712; Union Pacific, 3,800;

The stock market to-day was again a very limited affair, and outside of a few specialties, which were affected by influences peculiar to themselves, there was no movement whatever. The collapse of the suit against the Chicago Gas Trust furnished a little life to that stock, and, after opening up 34, at 4612, it reacted a fraction, but afterward rose to a shade above its opening price. The "shorts" covered rather freely, but there was little demand for the stock in other directions. Lackawanna early loomed into prominence and advanced a fraction under the impression that a squeeze of the "shorts" might be attempted, but the latter stock reacted and closed at Thursday's prices. Richmond & West Point was still influenced by the late acquisition of the Erianger roads by the East Tennessee, and occupied a prominent position in the early portion of the session, but became quiet, and later reacted with the remain-der of the list. Among the spe-cialties the only marked movement was in Manhattan, which suddenly spurted up from 10634 to 10814 on very light trading and for no apparent reason. The bank statement was expected to show a decrease in the surplus reserve, but the actual decrease was much beyond the expectations, and the life and strength were taken out of the market by the exhibit. The movements in the general list were contined, as a rule, to less than 12 per cent. and the dealings presented no feature whatever, though a strong tone prevailed in the first hour, giving place to weakness later on. The close was dull and barely steady at about opening prices, which were generally lower than

Thursday's figures.

Railroad bonds were quite active, and though a firm tone was shown in most of the list the final changes are generally of little importance. The sales of all issues reached $294,500, with Atchison issues and the new Chesapeake & Ohio issues most prominent. The sales of bonds for the week were $6,666,000, against $5,947,000 for Government bonds were dull and steady. State bonds were dull and without feature.

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Wheat Active and Higher-Corn a Shade Better-Oats Steady-Hog Products Firmer. CHICAGO, April 5.-Trading in wheat was active and a strong feeling was developed. The market was governed wholly by local influences, there being a holiday in Europe. Fair outside business was transacted, including some buying of futures for Eastern millers. The market opened about the same as Thursday's closing, ruled firm, May advancing 14c and July barely 1c, receded some and closed at 12c higher for May and 3ge for July. Early in the session attention seemed to be centered in May, and July sold at 134c discount from May prices, but later July was the most sought after and that future advanced to within 14c of May. The principal factor, and the one which had the most influence, was the crop reports received, which still point to a reduction in yield of the next crop. Corn was fairly active the greater part of the session, with the feeling rather firm, though the undertone was exceedingly nervous, and it took very little to start prices up or down. The market opened active, with an easier tone, but there was very good buying, and when wheat started up corn followed, but it reacted some, rallied, ruled steady, and closed a shade better than Thursday. Oats were quiet and steady, and without important features to cause especial change in prices. An operator who bought heavily on Thursday was a free seller, and the buying was day was a free seller, and the buying was by the seller of Thursday. A fairly active trade was reported in mess pork. Prices ruled 5@712c higher, the market closing steady. Trading in lard was fairly active and a stronger feeling was developed. Prices ruled rather easy early, but soon advanced .0212@.05c, with good buying by local operators. Quite an active business was transacted in short ribs. Prices on the whole advanced .0712@10c. closing steady. The leading futures ranged as follows:

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. The Trade of the Week Only Moderate in Its

INDIANAPOLIS, April 5. The volume of trade in the week closing to-day did not reach the expectations of the wholesale men, yet, all things considered, there is little room for complaint, as it seems to be the general belief that as soon as the country roads become solid trade will reach satisfactory proportions. Dry-goods men report their trade ahead of the first week of April, 1889, and the same is true with the boot-and-shoe men, while the grocers have not done as much as they had anticipated. As a rule prices carry a firm tone. The weak tone to certain lines of dry goods has passed off, and indications are that steady prices will prevail for some that steady prices will prevail for some time to come. Both coffees and sugars, which were a little weak in the early part of the week, have become firm. The weakness did not extend to the Western market, but seemed to be with speculators East entirely. Canned goods and dried fruits are out moving well at steady and firm prices. The provision market is active and prices on several descriptions of hog products are upward in tendency. The packers are doing but little, so high is the price of hogs. Kingan & Co. are not killing more than 4,000 hogs a week. The produce markets have been active the last three days. Apples and cranberries are about off the have been active the last three days. Apples and cranberries are about off the market. Eggs are weak at 10 cents; receipts large. Arrivals of poultry are quite liberal and prices rule easy. Choice butter is scarce and in good demand. Oranges are firmer and selling well. Lemons easy and in light demand. It has been a busy week with seed men and prices rule firm on all descriptions of seed. Millers say that the outlook for the flour market is more favorable, and prices begin to advance a little. The hide market is active at unchanged prices. Other markets are without feature.

GRAIN. The strong tone to the local market, which has prevailed during the last ten days, was noticeable to-day, and on some grades a slight advance in prices will be noted. The attendance on 'Change is increasing, and the bidding much more spirited. Receipts are improving somewhat, but fall considerably below the demand. Track bids to-day ruled as follows:

Dehorning Cattle. Writer in Kansas Agricultural Report.

Dehorning in the Western States is of recent date, and in its infancy in the United States. There is not much doubt but that polled cattle were first produced in Scot-land, by careful breeding. The result of that breeding is the well-developed breeds of Galloway, Polled Angus and Norfolk. These breeds have been greatly improved of Galloway, Polled Angus and Norfolk. These breeds have been greatly improved in the last quarter of a century. By careful breeding the Derham, Hereford, Holstein and Jersey may become polled breeds, and yet retain their beef-producing and dairy qualities, which would be hard to find in other breeds. Any organ that is not supplied with full arterial circulation of blood is likely to be dwarfed, and in a few generations will entirely disappear.

To dehorn properly you must have a firm stanchion or one of the improved chutes, the head firmly fastened, a sharp saw and no fear of blood. A knife will not answer in place of the saw, as you cannot get deep enough. The best age is in calfhood, from six to eight weeks old. It is easily done at this age, and soon heals; calves bleed but little. Yearlings appear to suffer worse than those of any other age, and bleed more. Some breeds suffer more than others or afe more nervous, e. g., the Herford. All animals should be handled with care, and not excited or hatted. The place to saw is back of where the horu unites with the skull; if this is not done, stubs of horns will soon appear. There need be no fear of sawing into the brain at this place, as it is more than one and one-half inches in a calf and twice that distance in an old animal from the base of the horn. If properly done, it is not as painful as other operations we perform on our stock, namely, castrating and spaying.

The advantages are numerous. A few of the most prominent are: less danger of loss of life to man and beast; less loss of calves by abortion; less shed room by one-third, also racks and troughs; less injury to herd in lot or pasture; makes quieter cattle; they feed more like sheep; lie closer in cold weather, keeping warmer, and requiring less feed to keep animal heat. Some ship-they feed more like sheep; lie closer in cold weather, keeping warmer, and requiring less feed to keep animal heat. Some shippers claim they ship better and sell for more in the market. The "cruelty" part is to a great extent imagination and prejudice. The cruel disposition of cattle goes with the horns, either on or off the head. I have to hear of the first person who has practiced dehorning and is not well pleased with it—especially with bulls. The men, as a rule, who cry "cruelty" are the men who have short-tailed and short-eared cattle from the effects of severe storms and blizzards—having a wire fence for the only shelter. Our best feeders and stockmen shelter. Our best feeders and stockmen are the men who speak well of it in our part of the State. I have dehorned cattle of all ages and in all seasons of the year without any fatal results, but would recommend early in the animal's life, and in weather when there are no flies. The heads of most cattle are hollow in this latitude. I put in the cavity

DAILY, SUNDAY and WEEKLY

The Most Complete Newspaper in all Departments in the State of Indiana.

No newspaper in the West is more widely or more favorably known than the Indianapolis Journal. By the display of enterprise and strict attention to the wants of the reading public, during the great campaign of 1888, it has taken a leading position among the most prominent journals of the country, and is certainly among the best. Among the newspapers of the State it is pre-eminently the best, and Indiana readers can nowhere else find what they want in the way of State and local news. It circulates largely in every county in Indiana, and has correspondents in every town and village of importance. No Indiana reader, certainly no Indiana Republican, should be without the Journal. While it is thoroughly and soundly Republican in politics, devoted to the interests of the Republican party, the Journal will not allow its news to be colored by partisan bias, but will give the news of the day without fear or

Owing to the prominence of Indiana in the national administration, the Journal gives particular attention to Washington news, which will be given far more completely than ever before. For this reason, if for no other, no Indiana reader can afford to be without it for the next four years.

In addition to its new features, the Journal regales its readers with the productions of some of the best known literary men and women of the day. Many of the most celebrated magazine writers and authors are contributors to its literary columns, making it a paper for the household and home circle. Special arrangements have been made for features of this character, which will appear in the Journal during the coming year. These appear most largely in the SUNDAY JOURNAL, which is a special edition, and can be subscribed for and received exclusive of the DAILY JOURNAL.
